Bryan, made no progress today after two Almost every office in the building has sessions were held, at the conclusion of been rented. which a permanent organization had not been effected. The fight is still on un-diminished, and the friends of Bryan will continue their efforts when the convention reassembles.

The first contest came at the after-noon session, when A. M. Walling of David City, Neb., vigorously protested against the manner in which members of the committee on credentials were being chosen. He said no man had any right to serve on that committee or hold a seat in the convention unless he could show proper credentials. Mr. Walling averred that there were many delegates who were self-appointed and had no cre-dentials from any state or organization. His protests were fruitless, and he was voted down.

lost none of their grip. Charles B. Hanford made an impressive Antony, though somewhat more along in life than one pictures the virile Roman. His delivery, however, atones for any fault that his avoirdupois might conjure up, for it is well-nigh perfect and a sample of the old school at its best. Dignity with a force and a plenitude of reserve power impress one in his reading, also he avoids the faults of mouth-ing and ranting.

The sinuous, enchanting Cleopatra, the Egypt of Antony's dream, however, the charmer of whom he threw away his glorious career hardly looked the part. This, with all due justice to Miss Alice Wilson's really fine interpretamiss Alice Wilson's really line interpreta-tion of a most difficult role and one hung thick about with the trophies that tragediennes of world-wide fame for gen-erations have wrested from the public. Miss Wilson is in no way one's realization of the Egypt of Shakespeare's magnifi-cent drama. She is of a fair, slim northern type and suggests not a whit the voluptuous, lustrous-eyed one who charmed both emperor and slave with her languid grace. But if conscientious and intelligent interpretation made for success, then Miss Wilson certainly deserves all laurels, and the applause given her at the end of her great scene with the asp was well earned.

The Enobarbus of John M. Kline was a portrayal of cynical, yet brave, young manhood that stood out in the luridness of the central theme. Alexander McKenzie, Ephraim. GIGANTIC PIANO AND ORGAN SALE IN FULL SWING

Genuine Reductions at the Consolidation Sale

Instruments of the highest values are being sacrificed at incredibly low prices. If you would participate in the large profits of this sale, you must purchase immediately, as our instruments are rapidly becoming fewer and fewer, in fact, so great is the magnitude of the business that we are doing that the transfer company is unable properly to handle our hauling.

Procrastination is not only the thief of time, but it may also deprive you of a rare bargain. To put off the purchase of a piano at this time means a loss to you of from $85 to $205 on NEW pianos. If you doubt us, closely examine the following quotations:

Ivers & Pond pianos, which regularly sell for $650, are being snapped up at the very low figure of $420; the Vose, whose name is a sufficient recommendation, and which ordinarily sells for $550, is going at $375; the well-known Winter & Company and Schaeffer pianos, which usually retail at $400, are rapidly passing from our possession to that of the purchaser for $265; the Lester, which is a beautiful and a fully guaranteed instrument, and which sells for $450 as a rule, is now offered at $342; the unsurpassed Estey, commonly sold for $500, is now selling for $380.

REMEMBER, the above are all strictly new pianos, and are all in the best of condition.

Will you allow such a rare opportunity to go by unheeded? IN SLIGHTLY USED PIANOS WE HAVE THE FOLLOWING BARGAINS:
